the Record of Twenty Years Rule-Com Pare This with the Democratic Record.
With "Twenty Years of Republican Rule" for a text, Hon. Green B. Raum, Gen. Raum is a capital speaker, and in his official capacity has had ample opportunity, which he has not neglected, to form an in elligent estimate of the important value of Republican rule to the country. We make below a few extracts from Gen.

Raum's speech:

• • • We are Republicans because he Republican party had the patriotism and courage in 18til to declare that the Union and the Constitution and tree government should be maintained at every hazzard against the rebellion; because the Republicans in Congress paused laws to raise armies, to create a many, to borrow money and to appropriate money for the suppression of the rebellion; because the Republican party had the wisdom to pass the Legal Tender Act and the National Bank Act, two of the greatest and most successful financial measures of the age. We are Republicans because the Republican party saved the Union, and not only preserved free government to our own people, but gave an impetus to the cause of freedom throughout the world. We are Republicans because the Republicans party emancipated four millions of slaves, and gave and courage in 1861 to declare that the enemies of the Government, and vectored to them the rights of citizenship, forleited by rebellion.

The Republican party pensioned the wounded and disabled soldiers of our army and the widows and/orphans of those who fell in the great struggle to preserve the Union. The Republican party made provisions for the construction of a railroad across the continent, connecting the Miss. across the continent, connecting the Mis-sissippi Valley with the Pacific States. The Republican party has encouraged the growth of the Western States and Territo-growth of the Western States and Territories by giving homesteads to settlers upon the public lands. The Republican party has fostered, stimulated, diversified and enlarged the industries of the country by its wise tarill legislation.

The Republican party is in favor of education and of liberal provisions for the support of free schools. It is in favor of the supportson of polygamy, and hey recently passed a law for the overthrow of that "twin relic of barbarism." It is in favor of an efficient and honest administration of the public service, and it has tration of the public service, and it has proven its faith by its works. The Repub-lican party is opposed to ballot-box stuffng, false counting, social ostracism, bull-and no legislation can improve the service in these respects. The business of the people is diligently and faithfully performed, and the public revenues are collected and honestly accounted for. A state-ment prepared in answer to a resolution of Congress shows that prior to 1861, when the Republican party came into power, the average loss by defalcation in collecting the revenues of the country was three dollars and fifty-nine cents on every thousand dollars, and in disbursing the public money the average loss by defalcation was five dollars and seventeen cents on every thousand dollars. Under Franklin Pierce the lars and fifty-nine cents on every thousand dollars, and in disbursing the public money the average loss by defalcation was five dollars and seventeen cents on every thousand dollars. Under Franklin Fierce the loss by defalcation in collecting the revenues was six dollars and minety-two cents on every thousand dollars. Under Franklin Fierce the loss by defalcation in collecting the revenues was six dollars and minety-two cents on every thousand, under James Buchanan three dollars and two cents; it fell to one dollar and ninety-one cents under Abraham Lincoln, rose to two dollars and six cents under the Democratic administration of Andrew Johnson, fell sgain to one dollar and twenty-four cents under President Grant; and to one cent on the thousand dollars under President Hayes. From July 1st, 1861, ta June 20th, 1879, the average percentage of loss by defalcation in collecting the revenues was reduced from three dollars and fifty-nine cents on the thousand dollars to one dollar and twenty-eight cents; and in disbursements the average loss was reduced from five dollars and seventeen cents on the thousand dollars to fifty-six cents. Since then the percentage of loss by defalcation but on receipts and disbursements has been as much further reduced as to become an unappreciable quantity. During the past six years the Infernal Revenue's service has collected $748,831,071,01 and disburses $27,087,300.00 without any loss by defalcation.

* What valid reason can be assigned for a change? Will the Democratic party suppress violence and fraud at elections? Will it give you a better currency? Will wages be advanced? Will the value sof farm products, and of flocks and herds be increased by Democratic tariff legislation? Will investments be more secure and productive than now? Will defaction be more surely promoted? Will the value sof farm products, and of flocks and herds be increased by Democratic tariff legislation? There is no subject of legislation upon which there is a broader divergence of opinion between the two groat political parties than there is on the question of tariff. The Republican party took up his principle of protection as it fell from the hands of the old Whig party and vitalized it in the legislation of the past twenty-one years, no need the first acts of the Republican party when it found itself in a majority in both Houses of Congresa, upon the withdrawal of the secensionists, was to pass a tariff law to increase the revenue of the day of a fat woman? * The specious argument of the Democracy against the tariff legislation is that the people of our country, not engaged in the business of manufacturing, pay largely increased prices for domestic goods manufactured in competition with dutiable articles, without any compensating benefit, ignoring the fact that the competition amongst our own manufactures there is no subjected to unjust and grinding exactions by the tariff, that that industry is not subjected to unjust and grinding exactions by the tariff, while the population has increased 60 per cent, improved lands have increased in acreage 76 per cent, the production of hay him we some ginger tea made for my wife, and a few pails full of the tea braced her cent; sheep and wood, 238 per cent,
